

Commuter Challenge 2010

Between April 5 and June 27, challenge yourself to replace drive-by-yourself trips with trips by bicycle, foot, transit and carpool. You'll get you a chance to win great prizes, including an iPod Touch, HP netbook, Amazon Kindle, REI gift cards and more!

You're also guaranteed to benefit in other ways:

Healthier Environment: Changing how you get around – even just a few days a week – is an easy, inexpensive way to improve air quality and reduce your carbon footprint.

Healthier Finances: AAA estimates that it costs roughly $8,000 per year to own and operate an average car in 2009. Save money on fuel and maintenance costs when you drive less often.

Healthier You: Active transportation choices like bicycling, walking or riding the bus or train get you closer to the 30 minutes of physical activity recommended for heart health, plus it's a great stress reducer.

Sign up for the Commuter Challenge at Marquette Plaza!

Commuter Challenge Fair
On the Skyway Level of Marquette Plaza
Thursday, May 6
11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

While you're there take advantage of great transportation information that can help you take more active and healthy trips, more often and to more places! We'll have information about the following organizations, programs and services:

- Destination Target Field: Your trip to Target Field – the most transit friendly ballpark in the nation - can qualify you for a Commuter Challenge prize!
- Nice Ride: New in May 2010! A bike share program for the Twin Cities.
- Hour Car: Hourly car sharing with two locations in downtown Minneapolis.
- Central Corridor: Under construction in St. Paul. Coming to downtown Minneapolis in 2014!
- Metro Transit: Free trip planning on the metro region transit grid.
- Bike Walk Week 2010: Now in June for a warmer ride!
- ABC Ramps: $20 monthly parking rates for qualified carpools!

Can't attend the event? You can still register for the Challenge online at mycommuterchallenge.org!
